Everything You Should Know

WHAT

What is Travel Therapy?

Travel therapy is a career option for physical therapists, occupational therapists, and speech therapists who are looking for short-term contracts at facilities across the country. Travel therapy jobs often range in length, with most contracts lasting 13 weeks. Travel PTs, OTs, and SLPs along with therapy assistants can find therapy travel jobs in all 50 U.S. states at hospitals, inpatient and outpatient facilities, school systems, and home health networks. Can you picture yourself taking your therapy career to the next level with exciting new experiences all over the United States?

WHO

Who can be a Travel Therapist?

Anyone can be a travel therapist, all you need is a sense of adventure, flexibility, and the desire to provide high-quality care. We recommend PTs, OTs, and SLPs have at least one year of experience before taking travel contracts, as travel therapy jobs require a strong skill set and the ability to hit the ground running. Travel physical therapy and travel occupational therapy professionals are in high demand. If you can jump into a new position and adapt quickly, you will thrive in this role.

WHY

Why do I want to be a Travel Therapist?

Why not? Travel therapists earn competitive pay and receive outstanding benefits packages with free or low-cost housing. Then there's the obvious perk – the travel! Travel therapy professionals have the freedom to move to dream destinations, seeing and experiencing the U.S. as few get to do.

HOW

How do I get started?

Travel therapy jobs come with a unique set of requirements, but travel therapy companies can help place you exactly where you would like to be. Once you determine that travel therapy is the right career move for your lifestyle, reach out to a reputable travel therapy company. You can earn more, travel more, and stress less with an experienced travel therapy recruiter guiding you on your first travel therapy assignment.
